University Registrar's Office

John Papinchak, University Registrar
 Fax: (412) 268-6651
 E-mail: university-registrars-office@andrew.cmu.edu

The University Registrar's Office (URO) performs the essential roles of administering the collection and maintenance of student records, ensuring their accuracy and integrity, and enforcing academic policies while providing the best possible services. The University Registrar's Office aspires to provide exceptional, environmentally-conscious services, while anticipating and meeting growing customer requirements with innovative processes, training and self service applications. The office strives to foster and promote an environment of professional development and appreciation.

The University Registrar's Office produces a complete calendar of important dates and deadlines for the academic year, which can be found on The HUB website (<http://www.cmu.edu>).

Undergraduate Enrollment

Enrollment is the process whereby eligible students notify Enrollment Services that they will be attending the university by registering for courses and settling their student accounts. Enrollment must be completed before students may begin classes and before they may utilize university facilities.

Complete information about the enrollment process, as well as registration and payment deadlines, are listed on the Official Academic Calendar, located on The HUB website (<http://www.cmu.edu>).

Registration

Registration is the process of selecting courses for the upcoming semester and discussing those selections with an academic advisor. We strongly encourage you to meet with your academic advisor before you finalize your selections and register for courses using Student Information Online (SIO) (<https://s3.as.cmu.edu/sio/#schedule-registration>).

For most entering freshmen, registration is accomplished during the summer, with the assistance of Associate Deans and department heads. Academic placement and elective choice information is collected by mail questionnaires during June and July. Most freshmen receive their schedules and enrollment information prior to the first day of classes.

Currently enrolled students select their courses for the upcoming semester during Registration Week, prior to the end of each semester. The Schedule of Classes is available online prior to Registration Week, listing available courses along with general enrollment information. The university reserves the right to make changes to hours, units or instructional staff when such changes seem necessary or advisable. A link to the online Schedule of Classes is provided on The HUB website (<http://www.cmu.edu>). Although faculty advisors are provided, it is the responsibility of students to have clearly in mind what they intend to do, what elective courses they wish to pursue and what irregularities exist which may affect their present schedule.

Students are not permitted to register in courses for which the prerequisites have not been satisfied. Exceptions to the rule may be granted only upon the recommendation of the teaching department concerned. Unless the prerequisites are satisfied or special approval is obtained when the student enters the course, no credit can be allowed for the course.

PCHE Cross-Registration

Cross-College and University Registration Guidelines - PCHE (Pittsburgh Council on Higher Education)

Cross-registration provides opportunities for enriched educational programs by permitting full-time paying undergraduate and graduate students to cross register for one course at a Pittsburgh Council on Higher Education (PCHE) Institution. Students who are paying full-time Carnegie Mellon tuition (per the requirements of their home college) are eligible. The PCHE course may not count towards full-time status. There is no additional tuition charge, except for special course or laboratory fees. Carnegie Mellon students do not acquire status at the Host Institution, but are given library and bookstore privileges. Credit and grades are transferred directly to the home institution. Cross-registration is not applicable during the Summer Session(s) or during intersessions.

For more information, visit <http://www.cmu.edu/hub/registration/undergraduates/cross/>

Faculty Course Evaluations (FCEs)

Students play an integral role in the academic life of the university when they participate in the evaluation of the faculty through the Faculty Course Evaluation process. FCE data is important in the evaluation of teaching and learning, as an important piece of the promotion and tenure process and as part of the process of course design and improvement. Student participation in the FCE process is critical to the university's commitment to quality teaching and academic excellence. Students are strongly encouraged to participate in the process with constructive feedback that is relevant to teaching and course content. More information on the University Course Assessment process and results from previous years can be found at the FCE website (<http://www.cmu.edu/hub/fce>).

Student Financial Aid

Brian Hill, Director of Student Financial Services
<http://www.cmu.edu/finaid/>

In alignment with the university's enrollment goals, Student Financial Aid consistently optimizes the utilization of all financial aid resources in order to recruit and retain a high quality and diverse student population. Student Financial Aid strives to deliver superior services that exceed the expectations of students, parents, and internal and external constituencies. Student Financial Aid identifies, creates and delivers strategies that facilitate the integration of financial aid policies. These policies align with current and future university recruitment, retention and enrollment priorities.

How Aid Works

Our financial aid program is need-based, meaning that all aid eligibility is determined by a student's family's financial circumstances. While a student and his/her family have the primary responsibility for paying for college, financial aid can bridge the gap between the total costs and the family's ability to pay.

We use a standard method to carefully review a family's financial circumstances and establish an expected contribution from the student and family. If we determine that the family cannot meet the student budget based on that calculated amount, we will award or recommend scholarships, grants or other resources.

For more information, visit <http://www.cmu.edu/finaid/basics/undergraduate/how.html>.

Applying for Financial Aid

Complete steps for applying for financial aid can be found at <http://www.cmu.edu/finaid/basics/undergraduate/applying.html>.

Types of Financial Assistance Available

There are several types of financial aid available to students, such as the following:

- Federal and Private Loans
- University Scholarships
- Outside Scholarships
- Federal and State Grants
- Student Employment

A full listing of these, as well as more information on each type, is available at <http://www.cmu.edu/finaid/basics/undergraduate/types.html>.

Presidential Scholarship

The Presidential Scholarship Program (<http://www.cmu.edu/leadership/pres-fellow-scholar>) was established in 2014 to attract exceptionally gifted prospective students and to address financial barriers in supporting these students' desire to attend Carnegie Mellon University. This prestigious program provides both financial support and high-level recognition for this exceptional group of students.

A Presidential Scholarship is renewable for eight (8) semesters of undergraduate education (10 semesters for students in the School of Architecture), as long as satisfactory academic progress and full-time enrollment are maintained.

Students do not need to complete a separate application process to be considered for a Presidential Scholarship; however, applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) (<http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>) and CSS PROFILE (<http://student.collegeboard.org/css-financial-aid-profile>). A student and his/her family must demonstrate some level of financial need based on the FAFSA and CSS PROFILE information in order to qualify for a Presidential Scholarship. Students must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents to be considered for a Presidential Scholarship.

Carnegie Scholarship

Carnegie Mellon awards the Carnegie Scholarship to qualified incoming first-year students. Carnegie Scholarships are awarded to academically and artistically talented middle income students who qualify for little to no need-based financial aid.

The Carnegie Scholarship is renewable for 8 semesters of undergraduate education (10 semesters for students in the School of Architecture), if satisfactory academic performance is maintained (cumulative 2.0 QPA) and Carnegie Mellon tuition is assessed.

All qualified U.S. citizens and permanent residents are eligible to be considered for the Carnegie Scholarship. Students do not need to complete a separate application process to be considered for the Carnegie Scholarship; however, applicants must complete the FAFSA (<http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>) and CSS PROFILE (<http://student.collegeboard.org/css-financial-aid-profile>) in order to be considered. Scholarship winners are notified in their financial aid award letter. Those awarded a Carnegie Scholarship must submit all of the required forms associated with applying for financial aid before the scholarship can be credited toward the student account. The scholarship is only awarded to incoming first-year students during the admission process.

Dependents of Carnegie Mellon employees who qualify for tuition remission are not eligible for a Carnegie Scholarship. External transfer applicants are also not eligible for scholarship consideration.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

The Department of Education requires recipients of Federal Title IV Financial Assistance to meet academic progress standards each year. Federal Title IV Financial Assistance includes the Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Work-Study, Federal Direct Student Loan and Federal Direct PLUS Loan Programs. Each university determines its own policy regarding sufficient progress standards. Federal academic progress standards must include two elements: cumulative QPA and cumulative units. At Carnegie Mellon, we define this as follows: first-year freshman students must pass 80 percent of all cumulative units attempted at Carnegie Mellon and have a 1.75 cumulative QPA after the first year, all other students (excluding graduate students in the Tepper School of Business and Heinz) must pass 80 percent of all cumulative units attempted at Carnegie Mellon and have a 2.00 cumulative QPA.

Carnegie Mellon has established a maximum time-frame of twelve (12) semesters for students to finish a program and receive financial aid.

Outside Scholarships

If you receive outside scholarships, they will be used to meet your unmet financial need and where applicable, offset/reduce loans and workstudy.

Institutional grants and scholarships will not be reduced due to the receipt of outside scholarships unless one of the following conditions occur:

1. If you receive federal grants or loans, these funds, in combination with any outside scholarships, cannot exceed your financial need.
2. All outside scholarships, in combination with all aid received, cannot exceed your cost of attendance.

Outside scholarships are not from federal, state or institutional (school) sources, such as a Federal Pell Grant or FSEOG. Examples of outside scholarships are: Coca Cola, Rotary scholarships, etc.

Students Pursuing a Second Bachelor's Degree

If you are enrolling in a second bachelor's degree program, you are not eligible for grants/scholarships. However, you may be eligible to receive funds from student loan and student employment programs. Eligibility for student loan funds is contingent upon the student's prior loan indebtedness.

Study Abroad

There are three ways to pay for study abroad at Carnegie Mellon: exchange programs (departmental or university-wide), sponsored study abroad, and external programs. For more detailed information, visit the Office of International Education website (<http://www.studentaffairs.cmu.edu/oie>).

Undergraduate Tuition Exchange Programs

Carnegie Mellon University assesses the standard tuition charge for the undergraduate tuition exchange programs.

Since Carnegie Mellon assesses the tuition charge, the student can be considered for all forms of institutional, state, and federal aid for which the student may have eligibility with the exception of any student employment program.

Undergraduate Study Abroad Programs

Carnegie Mellon University does not assess the tuition charge for undergraduate Study Abroad Programs.

Since Carnegie Mellon does not assess the tuition charge, the student is not considered for any institutional grants and scholarships. However, Carnegie Mellon will consider any student participating in an approved Study Abroad Program for all state and federal student aid programs for which the student may have eligibility with the exception of any student employment program.

The U.S. Department of Education and Carnegie Mellon University define an approved Study Abroad Program as one which is part of a contractual agreement between Carnegie Mellon and the host institution. Additionally, courses taken in the Study Abroad Program must be accepted for transfer to Carnegie Mellon by the Dean of the student's college.

Undergraduate Sponsored Study Abroad Programs

Carnegie Mellon assesses full tuition charges and all applicable fees to students participating in an undergraduate sponsored study abroad program.

Undergraduate International Students

Documentation Eligibility (U.S. Citizenship or Eligible Noncitizen)

You must be a U.S. Citizen or Eligible Noncitizen to receive federal student aid. If you are a U.S. Citizen, but were not born in the United States, please send us documentation of your citizenship (e.g., a copy of your passport or naturalization certificate). If you are an Eligible Noncitizen or refugee, send us verification. Acceptable forms of verification include a photocopy of both sides of your I-551 or I-551C card.

Undergraduate international students are ineligible to receive any federal or state student financial aid. Additionally, Carnegie Mellon does not award any institutional financial aid funds to undergraduate international students.

Student Accounts Office

Brian Hill, Director of Student Financial Services
E-mail: student-accounts@andrew.cmu.edu

The Student Accounts Office serves the university's various academic and administrative departments by processing and invoicing all student-related financial activity and managing the corresponding student financial obligations resulting from this activity. The office strives to serve students by accurately reflecting and communicating these financial obligations, providing timely and consistent responses to inquiries, and instilling financial responsibility and accountability with clear and concise guidance.

Billing Information

University Charges

All charges incurred at the university are reflected on your student account. Charges include tuition and fees and may include housing, dining, sorority or fraternity charges, health insurance, Plaid Cash, DineXtra and any miscellaneous charges incurred. Miscellaneous charges may include, but are not limited to, music lessons, library fines, parking fines, or emergency loans.

Student Account Invoices

Student account invoices are produced on the last day of each month. Invoices detail all transactions processed in the month, as well as any charges due in the future. Students receive an e-mail notification from the Student Accounts Office when a new invoice is ready for viewing on Student Information Online. Payments for amounts due from a monthly invoice must be received by the 15th of the next calendar month.

All student account invoices are available to view, print, or download through Student Information Online (SIO). Students can log onto Student Information Online (<https://s3.as.cmu.edu/sio/#home>) with their Andrew ID and password.

Billing Authorizations

Since paper student account invoices are not produced and mailed, students can authorize Carnegie Mellon to send a PDF copy of their invoice to another individual (parent, spouse, etc.) or other individual bill payer's e-mail address. After completing the authorization process, designated recipients will receive an e-mail with a PDF attachment of the invoice and any related billing messages.

More information can be found at <http://www.cmu.edu/hub/ebill-mps-instructions>

Student Account Interest Charges

Any amounts not paid by the stated due date are subject to a 1.5% interest charge each month until the balance is paid in full.

Tuition Assessment

The tuition charged to each student will be automatically adjusted on the 10th regularly scheduled class day (refer to the specific date noted in the Official University Calendar (<http://www.cmu.edu/hub/calendar.html>) as the "last day to add courses") based upon each student's schedule at that time. The tuition charged will be increased whenever the number of units added justifies tuition charges greater than those paid by the student at the time of fee settlement. After that time, no tuition adjustments will be made, with the exception of second minis for that particular semester.

For additional information, see University Policies (<http://coursecatalog.web.cmu.edu/servicesandoptions/universitypolicies/#tuitionadjustmentpolicy>).

Payment Options

Carnegie Mellon University is pleased to offer a wide variety of payment options to students and their families. A full listing of these, as well as more information on each type, is available at <http://www.cmu.edu/hub/billing/payment/index.html>.

We recommend that students enroll in Online Banking by registering a U.S. bank account to their student account via Student Information Online. This is the fastest, easiest, and most convenient way to make a payment to or receive a refund from the University. The University does not initiate a withdrawal from a student's bank account; funds are only withdrawn when a student schedules a payment through SIO.

Refunding

Refunds

If a student account has a negative balance resulting from an overpayment, financial aid, or a reduction of charges, the Student Accounts Office will review the account and issue a refund. If you have a negative balance and do not want a refund to be generated, please contact The HUB so they can update your account.

Electronic Refunds

The Student Accounts Office encourages all students to authorize electronic deposit of their student account refunds directly into their U.S. checking or savings accounts. Taking advantage of this opportunity eliminates the need to stand in line at The HUB to pick up a refund check and makes the funds available to the student within two business days. To enroll, students simply need to add a bank account on Student Information Online (<https://s3.as.cmu.edu/sio>).

Paper Checks

If you have not signed up to receive electronic refunds, your refund will be generated as a paper check that must be picked up in The HUB. Students who are issued a paper check for a student account refund have six months to cash the check. If the check is not cashed within six months, it will be voided and credited back to the student account and applied to any outstanding charges.
